Staff dedicates yearbook

The staff and adviser dedicate this, the Goldenlode of 1961, to O. W. Kolberg, director of speech in Lead High School for the past 31 years.

Mr. Kolberg, friend, counselor, favorite teacher, sponsor of the Class of '61, retired in May. Outstanding in State, civic and church activities, Kolberg is one of the top ten speech coaches in the nation.

The good wishes of administration, faculty and students go with him.

Meet Morty Miner

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. S. C. Witter
Superintendent

During his fifth year as superintendent of the Lead Public Schools, Dr. Sanford Witter has initiated many new programs. Among these are the requirement that freshmen take five courses, including natural or physical science, the new home-making class and the special education classes in the junior high and the grades.

Margaret Stabio, Business Manager

As business manager, Miss Margaret Stabio keeps the school system running smoothly.

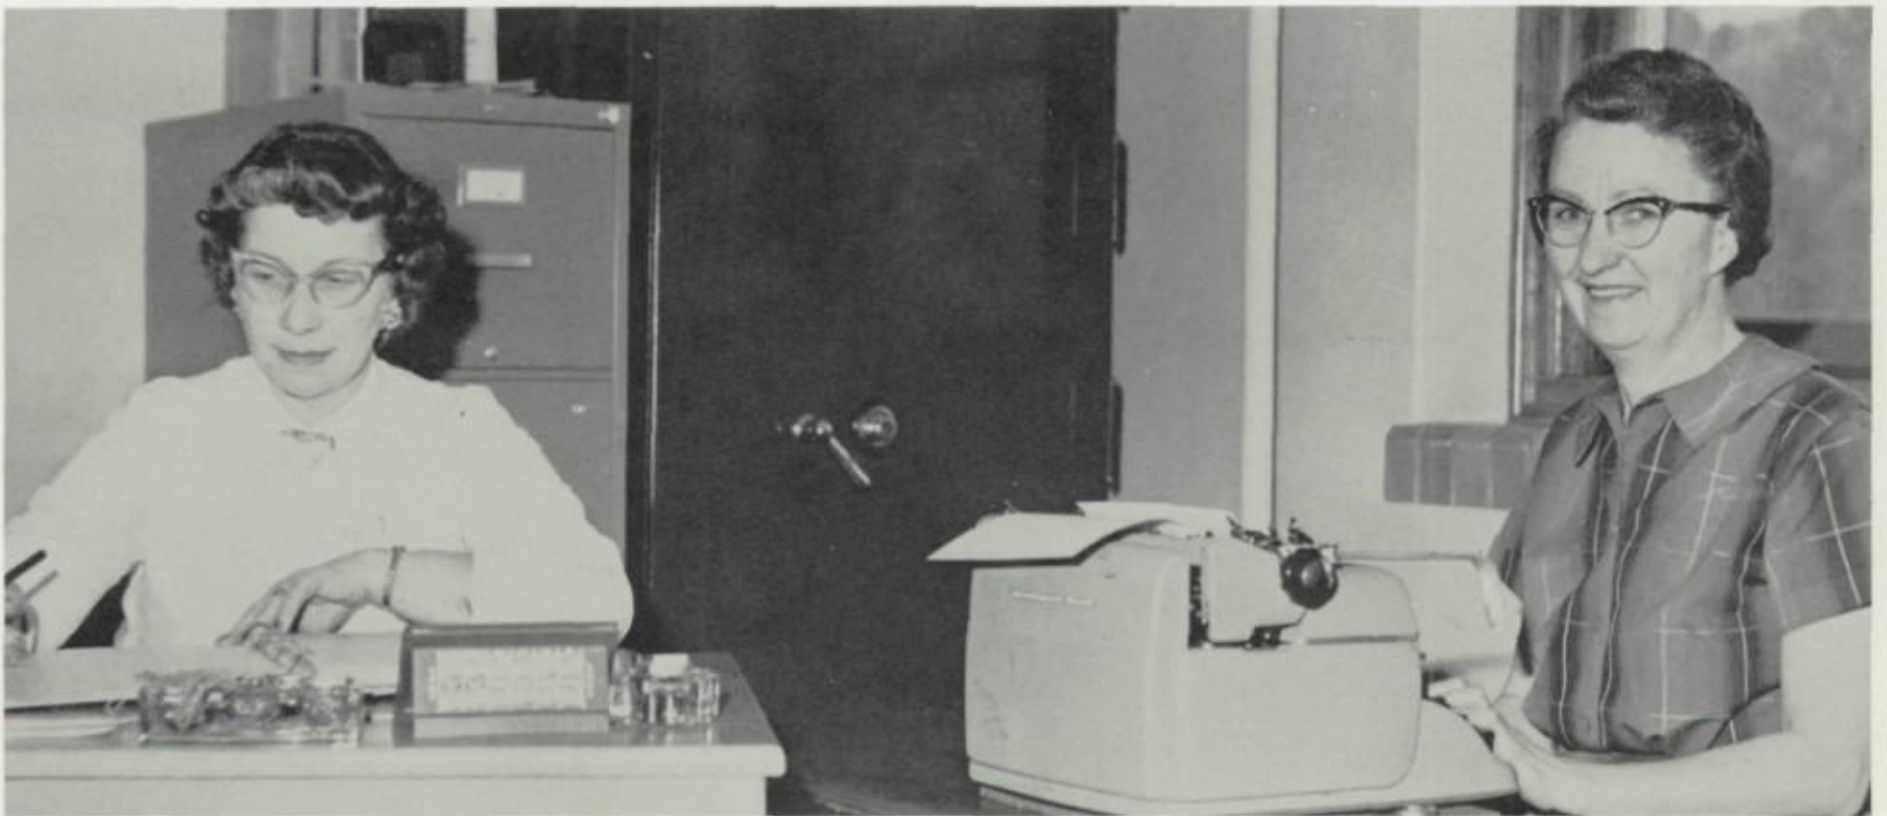

Mrs. Hazel Tretheway, Mrs. Lolita Newman

Mrs. Tretheway and Mrs. Newman aid the superintendent and Miss Stabio in the work.

As principal of Lead High School, F. Don Fitcher is in charge of everything that takes place. In addition, he is friend and counselor to the students.

Music department enjoys busy, successful year

The Vocal Music Department, under the direction of Lawrence Becker, produced several successful performances during the season. Opening the season was the Christmas Concert which was presented by the "A" Choruses, the Triple Trio, and the Choralairs. Select members of the "A" chorus, then started work on "Miss Cherry-blossom" which was presented in February.

In April, the "A" group participated in the West-River Vocal Music Festival in Spearfish. Music for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet was provided by the Discords. Also in April the spring concert was presented by the "A" and "B" choruses, Discords, the Triple Trio, and the Choralairs. At Class Day exercises, the Seniors in the "A" Chorus sang the Class Day Hymn. The Senior Chorus made their final appearance at graduation.

LOVE? That book must be fascinating. Gerald Zwetzig tries to win his lady's ear and heart but Jane Oyler blissfully reads on.

KOKEMO'S LOVELY GEISHAS. How could he contemplate suicide with these beautiful cherryblossoms around him? They talked him out of it.

Laughter and romance plus the sweet strains of many well-known selections filled the high school auditorium, Tuesday, February 21, as select members of the 'A' Chorus, under the direction of Lawrence Becker, presented the annual operetta, "Miss Cherryblossom."

The three-act comedy opera by May and John Dodge was set in a Japanese tea garden amidst traditional lanterns and gay cherry-blossoms. Mt. Fujiama towered in the background of the stage.

AMERICANS ABROAD. Members of the American Chorus who are visiting Japan as guests of Mr. Worthington enjoy a visit to Kokemo's tea garden.

Ray Rantapaa as Charley's Aunt resists the advances of elderly admirer Bill Dunn as Mr. Spettigue.

Judy Tausta, Student Director fastens the identification bracelet, gift of the cast, on Helen Morganti Director's wrist.

Juniors present hilarious three-act comedy

Confusion, laughter, and suspense prevailed when members of the junior class presented "Charley's Aunt," a three-act comedy by Brandon Thomas, November 21 and 22.

St. Olde's college in the late 1800's provided the setting for the plot which centered around the rich aunt of Charley Wykeham. Difficulties arose, however, when the Aunt's visit was delayed. One of Charley's classmates was enticed to impersonate her, but again difficulties arose when the real lady showed up.

Murder, suspense, highlight senior class play

Murder and suspense prevailed Wednesday, April 5, when members of the senior class presented "Night Must Fall," a three-act mystery drama by Emlyn Williams.

The plot centered around Dan, a psychopathic murderer, as he evaded the eyes of Scotland Yard and finally murdered Mrs. Bramson, the old woman who had trusted him completely.

A large audience responded to the action with screams and shrieks of terror.

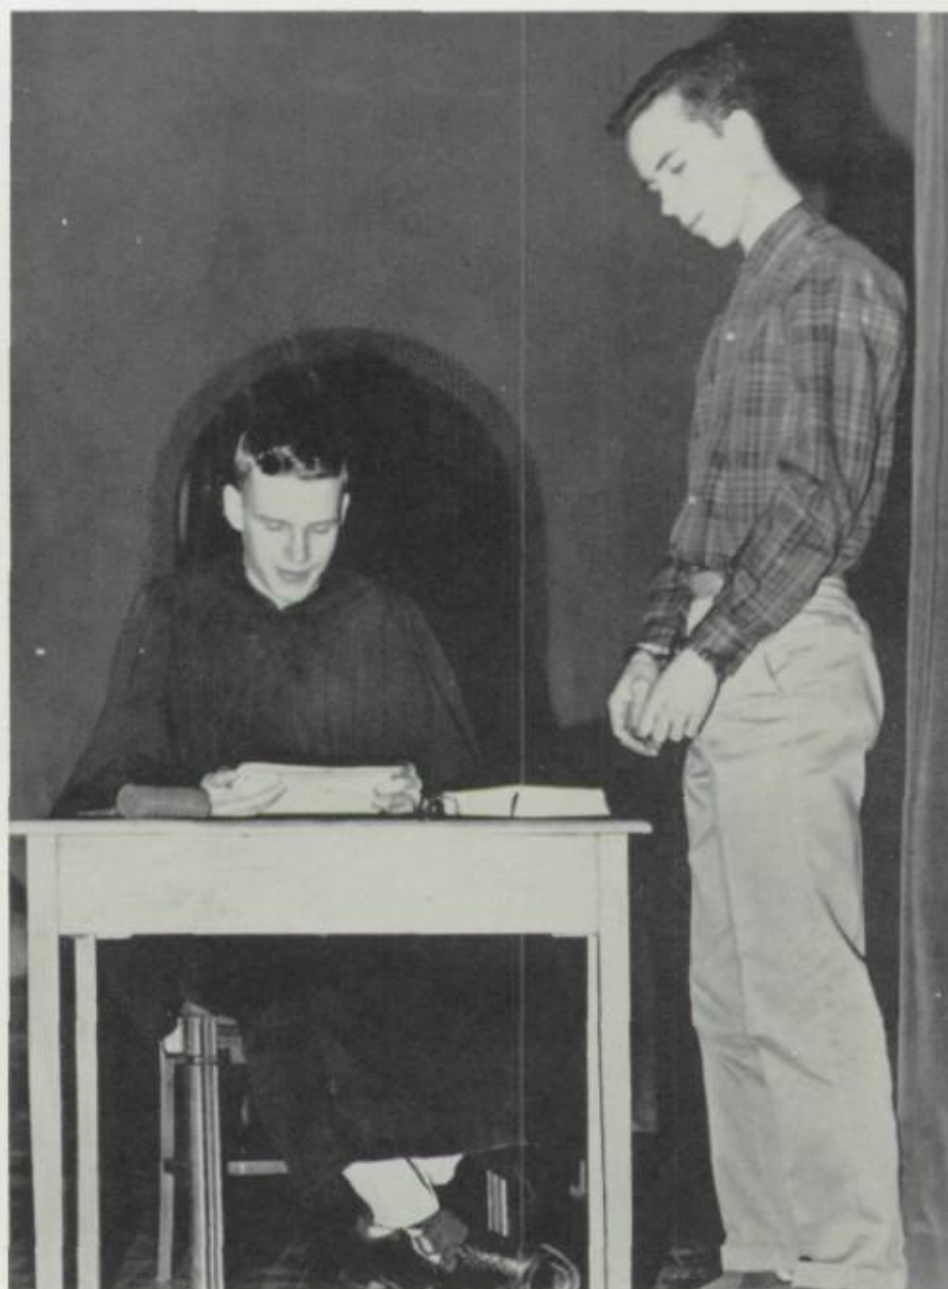

Hubert Laurie was a key source of humor which helped to keep the production from becoming too morbid.

These two worked it out. Seen checking copy are John Chilcott, student director, and Jan Goodrich, director.

"Nice to meet you," says Terry Gukeisen who played the role of Inspector Belsize to Hubert Laurie, Richard Holtry. Carol Eddy as Mrs. Bramson makes the introduction.

"I pronounce sentence—," Derril Wright, the Lord Chief Justice, reads the penalty to John Moye who played the lead as Dan.

Activities highlight 'Digger weekend

The traditional burning of the "L" and snake dance marked the beginning of a "terrific" Golddigger weekend of September 30-October 2.

Barbara Kinghorn with Ilene Bauernfeind and Karen Sulzle as attendants was crowned at the coronation Friday morning, by "L" Club president, Terry Gukeisen and was presented with a gift by Joe Carr, senior class president. A parade led by the band and featuring the homeroom floats, urging the 'Diggers on to victory, highlighted the afternoon. The predictions of the afternoon came true as the 'Diggers produced a 41-13 win over Hot Springs with a band show and a public coronation during the half-time.

The week-end concluded with a dance and floor show sponsored by the Student Council in the boys' gym Saturday night.

The L burned beautifully at night.

Members of the Lettermen's club provided fans with much action throughout the 1960-61 athletic season. The football team took second place in the Black Hills Conference after being considerably under-rated.

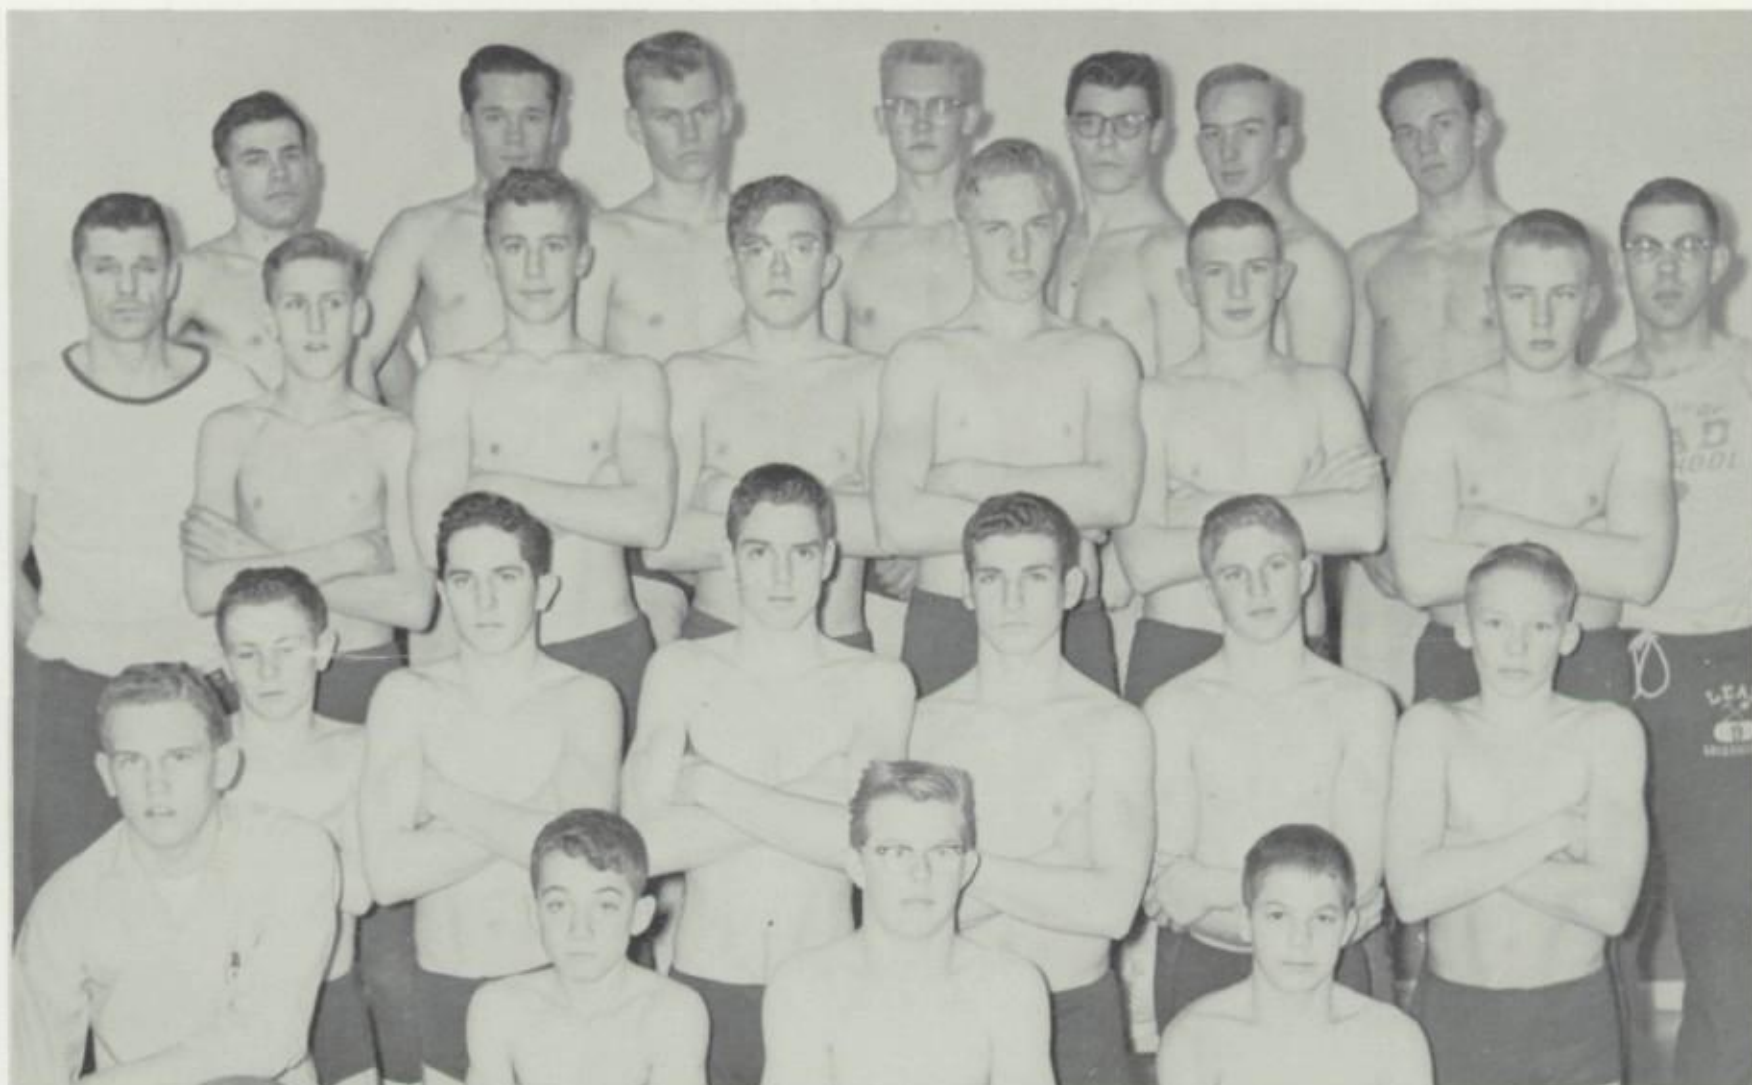

In basketball, the squad won a respectable fourth place, in what can be considered the toughest race in years.

The wrestling squad was slightly down this season due to inexperience and competitors missing in some weights.

The cindermen, though few in number, held their own, although only one participant qualified for the State track meet.

Inexperience hampers wrestling squad

With plenty of desire but little experience, the LHS wrestling squad had a tough year with 8 straight losses. The team had no heavyweight wrestler until the latter part of the season and so had to forfeit five points each match. The future looks bright, though, as only two, Marshall Thomsen and Aris Kotek, will be lost through graduation. Coaches are Donald Moorhead and Robert Steever.

Goldiggers win way to Sub-State finals

Coaching one of the youngest teams of his career, mentor William Ausmann and the "A" squad had seven wins and losses to tie for fourth place in the Black Hills Conference. After beating Lemmon and Spearfish in Section Eight play at Spearfish, the Diggers moved on to the sub-state tourney at Sturgis. The Custer Wildcats dulled the team's hopes in the first round of play, but the second night fans watched the five make one of the greatest comebacks ever to beat Rapid City 48 to 47 and to enter the finals. Belle Fourche nixed all plans of a state tourney trip during the final round of competition.
